Worksheet 6: Reading Practice - 'Preparing for the Science Fair'

Our school science fair is next Friday, and I'm getting ready! I decided to make a model of a volcano. It's going to show how lava flows when the volcano erupts. I used clay to shape the mountain, and I'll mix baking soda and vinegar to make it explode! My friend Sam is making a solar oven. We'll both need to practice presenting our projects in front of others. I wrote a script to help me remember what to say. I'm a little nervous, but excited too. I hope the judges like my volcano!
