Reading Practice: My First Year in Middle School

Instructions: Read the passage aloud. Focus on clear pronunciation and natural intonation.

My name is Mia, and I just started my first year of middle school. It's a big change from elementary school!

Every morning, I wake up early and get ready for the day. I pack my backpack, grab a quick breakfast, and walk to the bus stop.

My favorite class is science. I love learning about space and doing experiments in the lab. Last week, we built rockets out of paper and launched them!

At lunch, I sit with my friends and talk about books, music, and weekend plans. We all love different things-Emma likes K-pop, Sophia is a big soccer fan, and I love painting.

After school, I go to art club. Right now, I am working on a painting of the sunset. Painting helps me relax and express my feelings.

Sometimes, I feel nervous speaking in English, but my teachers and friends are very patient. Every day, I practice new words and try to speak with confidence.

Even though learning a new language can be hard, I am proud of my progress. I know that with practice, I will get better every day!
